Reformation Of Present State Tax System Advocated

COMMITTEE REPORT IS MADE TODAY

Suggests State Assume Bigger Share of Cost of Education In Future

MOST CONSTRUCTIVE

Document Signed By Seven of Eight Members; One Minority Report Made

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—(UP)—A new future in California's system of raising revenue to conduct the state government was seen here today, with presentation of the legislative tax committee's report to Governor James Rolph and the legislature.

Containing nothing startling in recommendations for immediate action in reforming the present state tax system, political observers pointed to it as one of the most constructive documents issued by a tax investigating committee for many years.

Outstanding were two major recommendations:

- 1.—Creation of a research department, to be placed in the state board of equalization, to gather facts concerning revenue and taxation, amounting in reality to a permanent tax commission.
- 2.—Amendment of the constitution paving the way for the state to assume a much greater share of cost of education, now borne almost entirely by local property owners.

The committee recommended no new sources of revenue be tapped; agreed that the "separation of sources" or gross receipts system of state taxation, be continued for the present for utilities; and urged the legislature to importune congress for more liberal federal laws concerning state taxation of national banks, which in opinion of the committee is now "entirely too low."

Seven of the eight members of the committee signed the report. They were Senators Breed, Nelson, Deuel, McKinley and Jones, and Assemblymen Levey, committee chairman, and Sewell.

Assemblyman Isaac Jones refused to sign the report and prepared a minority statement, declaring against the research department in the board of equalization, against continuing the separation of sources, and in favor of a state personal income tax.

Although the report was for continuance of the separation of sources, it recommended that the

ANNA PAVLOVA FAMED DANCER, ANSWERS CALL

Dies at Hotel in The Hague After Illness of But Three Days

THE HAGUE, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Anna Pavlova, world famous dancer acclaimed as one of the greatest artists of her time, died here at the hotel Des Indes early today. She was stricken with pleurisy Tuesday.

Pavlova would have been 46 years old on January 31. She contracted a chill enroute to The Hague when she was forced to remain in the open air for a long time due to a railroad wreck near Dijon, France. She was ill when she arrived here and her condition became critical yesterday afternoon.

Pavlova's rise in the dancing world brought her to the same position that was accorded in the theater to the great Sarah Bernhardt. Her triumph in America was sensational. Her engagements included not only the usual "star" presentations in the opera houses of great cities, but also performances in small towns, in amusement halls and small vaudeville houses where the name of a European actress was scarcely known. Pavlova was credited with giving an entirely new artistic conception to America, and public adulation was her reward.

Twenty years ago she aroused England and the United States to extravagant admiration in the ballet, "The Death of the Swan." Critics considered this the height of her achievement, although "Les Papillons" (the butterflies) and "Valse Caprice" also brought her unusual praise.

Pavlova made her first appearance in London at the age of 25 and achieved instant stardom. During her career she appeared in all the British possessions, including India, where she made an exhaustive investigation of ancient dance forms. India hailed her as a perfect interpreter of the country's mysticism, and yet the more modern school of British critics equally found her artistry "perfect."

Pavlova organized her own company in 1923 and conducted an unusually successful season at Covent Garden. She extended her conquests to Australia, South Africa and South America from 1925 until 1929. Then, in search of new material, she began a period of research into the ancient Buddhist dance forms, drawing her inspiration from vivid murals of ancient Buddhist monasteries.

Pavlova, hailed in artistic circles as the most famous ballerina of recent years, was endowed with beauty of face and figure as well as rare artistry. In America, her success was as great in small towns as in great cities. She held the same magnetism for theater goers accustomed to third class touring companies as for the more sophisticated critics. Audiences frequently stood on theater chairs to cheer the danseuse after some particularly thrilling performance. Her willing response to repeated requests for encores endeared her still further to the multitudes.

ARNSTEIN SOUGHT IN $50,000 SWINDLE

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—(UP)—A hunt for Jules "Nicky" Arnstein, notorious New York gambler and confidence man, was started by local police today as federal authorities opened an investigation to learn which of two prominent Chicago politicians was swindled of $50,000.

Relief Fund Total Here Nearly Half

More Than $1800 of $4000 Quota Reported Today By Red Cross

ALMOST 50 per cent of the $4000 quota given the Red Cross organizations of the southern part of the county has been raised, the total deposited by H. L. Hanson, treasurer of the Red Cross, up to 9 o'clock this morning being $1844.97.

As a result of the explanations and appeals broadcast by President Hoover, Judge Payne, national chairman of the Red Cross, Will Rogers and others, and as a result of an explanation by Terry E. Stephenson, Red Cross chairman, detailing the financial condition of the American Red Cross published in today's Register, it is believed that the remainder of the quota will be raised soon.

"We would like to have the money sent in as quickly as possible," said Stephenson. "First, that it may the sooner become available for relief; second, that our part in the nation-wide drive can be completed. Checks should be made out to the Red Cross, and they can be mailed to Harry Hanson, to the Santa Ana Register or to me, or they can be left at the First National bank at Tustin, with Miss Mabel Head, the postmaster, at Garden Grove, Mrs. Lois Robb at Huntington Beach, Mrs. John Forster at San Juan Capistrano, or at designated places at Laguna Beach and Mrs. Murphree at San Clemente.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN LATE TODAY FOR 30 DAYS; MANY BILLS PRESENTED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 23.—(UP)—Amid scenes of the wildest confusion the California state legislature today struggled out of the greatest late-minute jam in history, and adjourned for 30 days.

With adjournment set for 4 p. m., sergeant-at-arms were instructed to stop the clocks in the legislative chambers at that hour, and permit the work to go on, until midnight if necessary, until it is finished.

Outstanding bills before the legislature today included several reorganization measures for Governor Rolph, birth control legislation, the new building and loan act and a large number of labor and agricultural proposals.

"Skeleton bills" by the hundreds—consisting merely of the title and number—clogged the files of both houses. As the members are limited to the introduction of only two measures each at the last half of the session, the "skeletons" are submitted merely to hold a place on the files for bills that will be introduced later.

Reorganization of the state department of social welfare to create two departments instead of one, thus giving a directorship

Judge Clark Erred In Liquor Ruling, Sen. Lewis Asserts

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 23.—(UP)—The Wickersham report and the recent ruling of Federal Judge William Clark of New Jersey have brought prohibition today to a point, "where no decision can be given by an enlightened citizenry," according to Senator-elect J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois.

Declaring Judge Clark erred in holding the 18th amendment void because of irregularities in its adoption, Senator Lewis told a University of Arizona audience last night that nevertheless the measure is illegal.

But, the militant senator said, the law must be supported while it remains a law and any defiance is "criminal and treason."

Defendant Confident Of Victory

Seven Men, Five Women on Panel Show Strain of Deliberations

BULLETIN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—A request by the jury deadlocked over grand theft charges against Daisy De Voe, former secretary to Clara Bow, that it be allowed to make a statement in open court was denied by Judge William C. Doran at 2:30 p. m. today.

The jurors—seven men and five women—showed the effects of the long strain they have experienced since they received the case at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

There was no way to tell if the jury was nearer to a verdict than last night when it was ordered to a hotel for the night in an apparently hopeless deadlock.

Miss De Voe is accused of 35 counts of grand theft involving approximately $16,000 of Clara Bow's money, jewels and clothing. Judge Doran instructed the jury it must vote on each count separately.

Miss De Voe was a little tardy in reaching court today. She did not appear until the jury had been debating for a half hour. The girl wore the striking beige ensemble she substituted for a black and white outfit as soon as the trial ended.

Daisy was cheerful and smiling and confident of being freed.

"I had a good sleep last night," she said.

Alfred Mathes, her fiancé, and her sister, Mrs. Grace Black, did not accompany her as usual.

PREACHER ORDERED FROM COURT ROOM

During the trial of Carl Settle, Huntington Beach man, charged with a statutory offense, which took place before a jury yesterday in the court of Judge James L. Allen, a spectator in the court room was ordered out of the court room by Judge Allen, who interpreted certain actions of the visitor as coaching the defendant while he was on the witness stand.

The man, an elderly person, said to be a Long Beach minister, was escorted from the court room by Bailiff C. E. Dixon on the instructions of the judge, after he had been called down by the court for his action during the testimony of the defendant. He informed Bailiff Dixon that he was there to find the facts of the case and report back to his congregation and that he had no intention of communicating with the prisoner.

CLAIMS SHULER SURE TO KEEP RADIO LICENSE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The Rev. Robert P. Shuler, who has been fighting to retain the broadcasting license of his station, KGEF, is virtually assured of victory, the Los Angeles Illustrated News said today.

Fully 96 percent of the evidence gathered and presented against the Rev. Mr. Shuler will be branded "incompetent and immaterial" when his application comes up for final decision, either before the radio commission or before the United States supreme court, the Daily News declared it learned from an authoritative source.

The paper added that every denunciation and accusation hurled over the radio by the pastor prior to August 1, 1930, and introduced as "damaging evidence" at a hearing against him before Examiner Ellis A. Yost, will be termed legally worthless.

The Daily News quotes an official whose name it held confidential, to the effect that:

"If the radio commission should refuse Shuler's application for renewal of his license, using as evidence in its finding any testimony or radio speeches made prior to the issue of his last regular license, there is no court in the country but

First place prize winners in the bird coloring contest this week were Maxine Fitzgerald, 9, 1233 Highland St., who attends Lowell school, and Carol Corson, 7, of Costa Mesa. Ted Brand, 11, of 114 East 12th street, and Robert Little, 14, 446 S. Garvey, 7, placed second in their respective classes.

The first place cash prizes will be mailed today to Maxine and Carol, and all the four prize winners named above should come in to see Mr. Larry Rundell, room 14, the Register building, or should call him on the phone at Santa Ana 323 and make an appointment for the photograph to which they are entitled.

Next week the bird to be colored is the red-winged blackbird, and the cash prizes of $1,000 each for the first place winners in the group of entrants from six to nine years of age, and the division from nine to twelve, along

DISTRESS SIGNALS SENT OUT BY SHIP

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The S. S. Jakob Sverdrup sent out distress signals today saying it was drifting toward shore with engines helpless and needed immediate assistance.

The position given in the message, as relayed from the liner President Harding to the Radio Marine corporation, was 37 north latitude, 74 west longitude. The position is somewhere in the Hebrides islands, off the west coast of Scotland.

Lloyd's register does not list a ship of the name mentioned in the dispatch.

EXPLANATION BEING ASKED FROM CHIEF

Intimation Made In White House That President May Speak Late Today

TYDINGS IS BLOCKED

Effort to Bring Up Resolution Asking Inquiry In Senate Is Delayed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—An effort was being made in some quarters today to induce President Hoover to clarify the various "interpretations" of his stand on revision of the 18th amendment.

At the White House it was said the president might offer an explanation later today though nothing definite had been decided.

Unofficially there has already come from the White House information the explanation that in standing against the possible proposed revision suggested in the Wickersham report, President Hoover did not mean to imply he was against any revision whatever.

It was insisted he has an "open mind" on the question. Senator Simeon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican national committee, after first saying the president's message meant the Republican party would be dry in 1932 later said that what he meant to say was that the president had an open mind regarding revision of the 18th amendment but was against any plan which would throw prohibition back into the hands of congress in a way that would harass it for a hundred years.

Meanwhile, Sen. Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, was temporarily blocked in an effort to bring up his resolution calling for a senate investigation as to whether pressure was exerted on the Wickersham commission. Because the senate "recessed" last night instead of "adjourning" Tydings was stopped by the parliamentary rules from bringing up his resolution today. He is awaiting the first opportunity to do so, however, and this step will be the signal for opening of debate on the Wickersham report. Numerous senators are known to be preparing themselves for extensive discussion of it.

Sen. Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, New York, a physician, offered a resolution today to rescind restrictions on medicinal liquor, saying this was the only point he could find on which the commission was unanimous.

Official tolerance of the sale of grape juice concentrates which he described as "an absolute violation of the law" was attacked in the house by Representative Celler, Democrat, New York, a wet leader.

Celler invoked the Wickersham report to back up his charges.

"Fruit Industries, Inc., which is carrying on a nation-wide advertising campaign of a product that will change into 14 per cent wine of all the delectable flavors known, is allowed to go unscathed and unwhipped of justice," Celler said.

"They do so without any effort on the part of the administration to punish them."

Celler quoted from that part of the Wickersham report which said the commission could not understand why home wine making should be less reprehensible than home brewing or home distilling.

SENATE PASSES AGRICULTURAL APPROPRIATION

Measure Now Goes to Conference—Human Food Bill Is Delayed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—The senate today passed the agriculture appropriation bill providing approximately $214,000,000 for the next fiscal year. The bill now must go to conference.

It was passed by the senate in one hour.

While the senate was acting, Speaker of the House Longworth formally sent the interior department bill to the appropriations committee today for hearings in an effort to defeat or reduce the $25,000,000 Red Cross relief fund.

Chairman Crampton of the subcommittee which has charge of the measure, announced to the house it was his plan to call Red Cross officials tomorrow to testify regarding the appropriation.

The senate now has passed four of the 11 major supply bills. The house has passed five. Those passed by both houses are:

Treasury-post office bill, now in conference.

Interior department bill—before house appropriations committee for action on senate amendment to give $25,000,000 to the Red Cross.

Agriculture department bill.

First deficiency bill, including senate amendment to provide $3,000,000 medical relief in drought areas, added after original passage of bill by house.

The house also has passed the war department supply bill, which is now awaiting senate action.

Supply bills remaining and their status are:

Justice, commerce, state and land.

GRAPEFRUIT THROWN AT RUDY VALEE

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Rudy Valee's rendition of "Oh, Give Me Something to Remember You By" proved so appealing here last night that three young men in the Metropolitan theater balcony contributed several grapefruit.

Rudy had just begun crooning the chorus when the balcony bombardment started. In rapid succession the grapefruit and an egg or two clattered upon the stage, one missile crashing upon the cymbals of the jazz band's drummer and missing Rudy by a scant yard.

Rudy stopped singing and stepped up to the footlights. "I am here," he said, looking toward the source of the grapefruit, "to entertain audiences daily. If you don't like me, you don't have to come here."

Day In Congress

SENATE
Begins consideration of agriculture department appropriation bill.
Banking and currency committee considers Eugene Meyer's nomination as governor of federal reserve board.

HOUSE
Continues consideration of state, justice, commerce and labor department appropriation bill.
Naval affairs committee discusses battleship modernization program.
Interstate commerce committee considers bill to set up federal tourist agency.

SHOW REVEALS PRECISION IN MAKING FORDS

How precision in the manufacture of the Ford car and truck is made possible by quantity production is graphically illustrated by a sound motion picture and a number of special exhibits on display in a Ford show being held in a large tent at East Fourth and Garfield streets here.

The show, arranged by George Dunton, local dealer, in co-operation with the Long Beach branch of the Ford Motor company, will continue through Saturday and will be open to the public free of charge from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. each day. The motion picture depicts the manufacture of the Ford from the production of raw materials until the car is driven off the assembly line to join its innumerable predecessors in the traffic of the world.

The out of town dealers participating in the show are: Mansur Motor company, Orange, and C. B. Shotwell, Garden Grove.

Supplementing it, the special displays arranged about the tent reveal in detail the infinite precision which has resulted from quantity production and which in turn has made quantity production possible. So close are the limits of measurement maintained that in many instances one part will not vary from another more than a tenth of a thousandth part of an inch. A part could be taken from the display board and fitted into any one of a million Fords and it would fit, Dunton said.

Of special interest is a display of Johansson gauge blocks, little oblong pieces of shiny metal that are used for checking the gauges in the Ford plants.

Another interesting display is that of rustless steel parts showing step by step how they are formed and polished. Still another is a Triplex glass windshield, which, though cracked by a heavy blow, refused to shatter. Of special interest to women visitors are samples of the various cloths used in Ford upholstery.

Displays also include a board showing the stages in the manufacture of the crankshaft and camshaft, a steel-spoke wheel showing its one-piece construction, numerous ball bearings, forgings, shock absorbers, standard accessories, and many other parts.

Unusually interesting are a Tudor cut in half to reveal the details of its construction and—a truck chassis with portions cut away to disclose its working parts.

In British India 232 languages are spoken. Only 82 persons in every 1000 are able to read or write a letter.

Calvin Coolidge Says:

By CALVIN COOLIDGE

Former President of the United States
NORTHAMPTON, Jan. 23.—Mostly because of developments in some foreign countries we find considerable discussion of whether democracy is not proving a failure. Very great things have been expected of that form of government. The oratory that has been expected in its glorification has not all been found to be justified. No informed student of human affairs ever expected that democracy would be a sovereign for all the ills with which mortals are beset. But the principle of self government, applied in so far as the development of a people will admit of its application, remains as the best solution of social relations.

In times of national peril, whether military or economic, it has been found necessary to modify the application of the principle in the interest of expedition and solidarity. That has been done in some European countries but it is a temporary expedient. Self government is the expression of one of the strongest and most logical aspirations of human nature. There is no other system that is consistent with freedom. In the end it will prevail because it is over-lastingly right. The character of our people is the best guarantee of its success in the United States.

School Leaders To Meet Tonight

A special meeting of the county board of education has been called for tonight by Ray Adkinson, county school superintendent. The board will meet at 9 p. m. in the educational department office in the hall of records.

The meeting has been called to discuss the standardization of school supplies. This is a legal requirement and must be carried out before February 1.

ANNULMENT SUIT FILED

Seeking annulment of the marriage of his son, Clinton B. Portwood, to Esther Miller Portwood, suit was filed in superior court yesterday afternoon by John R. Portwood, against his son's wife. The complaint asserts the young couple married Sept. 1, 1929, at Tia Juana, when the son was under age and did not have the permission of either of his parents.

FIVE CRIMINAL CASES HANDLED IN COURT HERE

One man was sentenced to San Quentin, another given a term in the county jail as a condition of probation, a third answered arraignment and two others were before Judge H. G. Ames in superior court today on informations that were filed by the office of Sam L. Collins, district attorney.

The prison sentence was meted out to D. H. Wacker after probation of the probation department. He had formerly entered a plea of guilty to a charge of issuing fictitious checks and probation had been granted in this matter by the court. Since then, according to the testimony developed at the hearing today, Wacker issued another fictitious check in the amount of $20 to J. F. Lewis, of Orange, last September, and had been sentenced to 90 days' imprisonment in Los Angeles on a petty theft charge last October. The term provided by law for his original crime, which was also that of issuing fictitious checks, is one to 14 years.

Dan Nogodola will spend six months in the county jail as a condition of probation for a period of five years which was granted by the court after a hearing on his petition for probation. He had pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing a forged check for $18 to A. F. Lamb on January 2.

A plea of guilty was entered by T. J. Eason when he came before the court to answer arraignment to a charge of issuing a fictitious check for $12 to G. C. Wilhoit. His attorney, Raymond Ray, made oral application for probation and the court set January 30 as the time for the hearing of the application.

Informations were filed by the district attorney's office against C. L. Proctor and Archie Wylie. Proctor pleaded not guilty to a charge of issuing a fictitious check and is to be tried February 3. It is alleged he issued a check for $10 on January 7 to G. S. Hilbert. He was represented in court by Attorney Ladd, of Los Angeles, who is known to legal circles as "Habeas Corpus" Ladd. Wylie, charged with assault with intent to commit robbery on January 10, when it is charged he threatened Warren Smith with a gun in an endeavor to take Smith's money, was arraigned but asked for a week in which to answer. His request, made through his attorney, Otto Jacobs, was granted by the court.

EVANS GUILTY ON DRIVING CHARGE

"Guilty," was the verdict returned late yesterday afternoon in the court of Judge H. G. Ames by the jury which heard evidence in the trial of Ben Evans, bread salesman, who was charged with failure to stop and render aid after his truck had struck a horse ridden by Doris Jacobson on the evening of December 29. The verdict of the jury carried with it a recommendation for leniency.

Evans, as a result, faces the prospect of a prison or jail sentence or a stiff fine or both. The law provides that violation of the section requiring a person to stop and render aid after an accident is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not exceeding five years or in the county jail not exceeding one year or by a fine not exceeding $5000 or both the fine and imprisonment. The jury considered the verdict from 10:45 a. m. until 4:07 p. m., returning at one time for further instructions and information.

The convicted man entered a petition for probation and the court set January 30 as the time for hearing on the petition.

BAPTISTS ATTEND DOWNEY CONCLAVE

A large delegation from the First Baptist church here attended the one day session of the mid-year Bible and missionary conference of the Santa Ana Valley association of the Baptist church which was held yesterday at Downey. The Rev. Harry E. Owens, pastor of the Santa Ana church, conducted the devotions at the morning session.

Representatives from the various church organizations and the young people's society went to the session, which was addressed by church leaders, including Dr. Otto S. Russell, former pastor of the Santa Ana church, who is now secretary of state missions for the denomination. Other speakers were the Rev. S. D. Bawden, of South India, who told of his work among the criminal tribes of that country; Miss Luella Adams, of Boston, who discussed the Christian center work of the church in foreign settlements of large cities; and the Rev. Walter Woodbury, of Los Angeles, state director of missions.

COMMITTEE REPORT IS MADE TODAY

legislature be empowered to make such further classifications and sub-classifications of utility groups taxable upon their gross receipts for state purposes as may be necessary in order to achieve a more equitable distribution of the tax burden.

The board of equalization should extend its studies under the research department in respect to the average tax burden on common property and the tax burden on utilities, so that comparisons of the burdens may be obtained, the report declared.

Also, according to the report, the research department should particularly "give consideration to devising ways and means of relieving the present excessive tax burden borne by homes, farms and all other real estate taxed locally," including:

1. Proper tax limitation methods.
2. Transference to the state of certain general government functions now performed locally.
3. Determination of proper sources of new revenue.
4. Correction of certain abuses connected with special assessments.

Another forward looking recommendation made by the committee was that board of supervisors of a county be empowered to review and revise budgets of school districts. This is a definite attempt to cut down on cost of education, which has mounted so rapidly because of complete freedom granted school trustees in expending funds, in opinion of many officials.

Amendment of the 4 per cent net income tax on banks and corporations so that oil companies will pay more tax was approved by the committee, as represented by a bill introduced in the legislature during the past week.

The 4 per cent tax on banks is "unsatisfactory," the report said, because of the meagre revenue received from this source, but declared that the present method must be continued until congress liberalizes provisions of the federal law covering such taxation.

what would reverse the commission finding, and would return a judgment in Shuler's favor."

Speeches made by the pastor since he was granted his regular six month's extension last August admittedly are not "particularly damaging," Attorney Thomas P. Littlepage and Lily Nix said. They have led the opponent of the broadcasting pastor in a two-week battle to rule him off the air.

For several years, the Rev. Mr. Shuler has broadcast semi-weekly "civic" talks, during which he has attacked judges, other religions and nationalities, and organizations. Twice he has been convicted of contempt of court for attempting to influence juries and judges in their decisions.

Several hundred thousand words of testimony have been presented against the pastor during the hearing, most of which he had admitted was correct.

It was expected that Shuler would rest his defense today as Examiner Yost desires to leave for Washington tomorrow.

CULVERTS COMPLETED

ORANGE, Jan. 25.—Culverts are being completed over the dips in Glassell street, the work being a part of the $75,000 storm drain put in here this winter. With the completion of the culverts, the work will be practically done. Several of the men who have been employed here during construction work left for their homes in Los Angeles yesterday.

to each of two contesting women, is sought in measures introduced for Governor Rolph.

Said to be a plan of satisfying both Mrs. Rhea Crawford Spillvale of San Francisco, one-time "Angel of Broadway," and Mrs. Harry Michaels, Los Angeles clubwoman, the governor proposes to set up a new department, to be known as the "department of child welfare," which would include all functions pertaining to children now under the department of social welfare.

Inability of the governor to find a man acceptable to the various interests in the department of natural resources impelled him to ask that the department be divided into three departments, to be known as "mines and mining," "oil and gas," and "natural resources." Each would have a salaried director who would sit on the governor's cabinet.

With 688 bills introduced yesterday, a total of 1904 for the session was reached. The assembly saw the introduction of nearly 500 measures during the day, the greatest "one-day record in history," according to Arthur Ohnibus, chief clerk.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

In the mind of God each individual man is potentially great. He created none to be weaklings. But this greatness is undeveloped within man until circumstances call into activity his latent powers.

You were not half the man before you knew sorrow, that you are now. You are not half the man compared to what you will become as you continue to bravely face your trials, bend your shoulder to the burdens of life, and open your heart to God's life-giving Presence.

You are now in process of becoming what God and your dearest one expect of you.

HEAR SPEECHES BY GUY ELLIS, GERALD HEALY

Featured speakers at an all day session of the National Association of Real Estate boards conference held today at Ketter's cafe were Guy W. Ellis, director of sales conferences for the National association, and Gerald J. Healey, president of the Healy and Carey Realty company of Flint, Mich.

In his speech made at the morning session Ellis likened a real estate brokerage office to a retail store handling a good grade of merchandise. "Real estate brokers throughout the nation," Ellis said, "are making a vigorous effort to list the property best suited to the buyers' needs and desires. Extensive surveys of property in the community are being made so the realtor will know exactly what the market offers."

A proper presentation of property was the point emphasized in Gerald Healey's morning speech. "An endeavor is being made by all real estate men in the association to prepare detailed written and photographic data on all property listed for sale or exchange," Healey said. This method of showing property is called "property brief."

Luncheon was served at noon and afterwards the same speakers elaborated on their morning subjects. Ellis contended in his afternoon speech that the prospective purchaser should be told all the facts concerning the property he is shown. No effort should be spared to eliminate exaggeration and high pressure methods, he said. In his afternoon speech Healey pointed out the advantages to be gained by all parties concerned in a real estate transaction. He further elaborated on creating beneficial sales in the community.

Boards represented at the meeting included Montebello, Whittier, Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, Laguna Beach, Newport Beach, Huntington Beach and Santa Ana.

Select Officers Of Building-Loan League of County

The regular monthly meeting of the Orange County Building Loan League was held last evening at the Elks' club in Anaheim, with about 45 in attendance.

After the regular routine of business, the evening was devoted to reviewing the proposed new building-loan act, which will be introduced in the legislature at this session. Niel Davis, secretary of the State Building-Loan league, from Los Angeles, was present and led the discussion.

New officers were elected at this meeting, as follows: Fred Backs, of Anaheim, president; O. Pixley, of Orange, vice president, and Elmer Bruce, of Anaheim, secretary. The retiring officers who served the past year are P. G. Beisel, president; Fred Backs, vice president, and A. C. Hasenjaeger, secretary and treasurer.

The league has a 100 per cent membership and holds monthly meetings alternating in the different towns in which Building-Loan associations are located in the county.

DR. CALDWELL'S WAY helps any Child's Bowels

Often, this simple prescription, brings the first natural, complete bowel action a child has had in weeks. And the entire system benefits from its gentle aid!

Feverishness, biliousness, headaches simply disappear when Syrup Pepsin is used. The bowels become regular and remain that way. Appetite becomes hearty; the digestion becomes more complete; energy and strength are restored.

Nothing you can give a bilious, half-sick, constipated child—or take yourself when your bowels need help—will do as much for you.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription for the bowels, written by a famous physician—one whose record of over 3500 birth cases without loss of one mother or baby is believed unique in American medical history.

No wonder Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for women and children. But it is equally effective for the bowels of robust men. Whether you're only occasionally constipated or chronically that way, it will cleanse, regulate your bowels, harmlessly and in a hurry. All drug stores have the big bottles.

NONE REFUSED AID BY ARMY LEADERS

No individual in dire need of shoes or other articles of wearing apparel is ever turned down by the men's social service department of the Salvation Army, Brig. Gen. Paul Heisinger, officer in charge of the work here, stated today. Thousands of pairs of shoes for men, women and children, as well as thousands of other articles of wear are given away yearly.

Although the department of the Salvation Army maintains itself without any sort of subsidy, solely by the collection and sale, at a small price, of all articles of wear, or furniture, or books, or old newspapers, thus keeping hundreds of men annually employed, yet it has never, the officer stated, refused help to the man or woman who could not pay.

VAN DE KAMP BAKERY WILL LOCATE HERE

Announcement was made today by P. G. Beisel, owner of the property, that the Van de Kamp Holland Dutch Bakery company had leased the northeast corner of Fourth and Birch streets and would immediately install one of its chain of California bakeries at that location.

The lease will start on February 1, at which time the baking company will start renovation of the building, which will include the building of the familiar windmill, characteristic of the company's stores. Approximately $2000 will be spent in putting the building, which is 18 by 60 feet, in condition.

The property is owned by Beisel, W. R. Williams and H. L. Wakeham, all of Santa Ana. Reports also were current that the property located just east of the corner, at 323 West Fourth street, would be leased this week to a Los Angeles concern which is expected to come into Santa Ana. The nature of the business was not disclosed.

A light meter has been invented for motion-picture studios to measure the intensity of the light from high-power electric lamps in any part of a room as a guide to cameramen.

"We have always gone on the assumption that a man who is in need would rather pay a small sum than to accept charity," the officer pointed out. "But there are times when a man must accept charity, and when that time comes we are ready to aid him."

The truck with the big red shield is sent at any time the call is given for it, and articles which are of use to somebody other than the person wishing to give them, are collected.

tailed study of the history of California south of Santa Barbara, will illustrate his talk with stereopticon pictures. Miss Marian Parks will sing a group of early California songs. ## HAVING A MAN TO CALL HIS 'DADDY' SAVED ORPHAN BOY FROM LIFE OF DELINQUENCY

How one word—daddy—made a permanently normal boy out of a youth who had been a problem, how it satisfied his longing for what he never had had, the friendship of a father, was told last night by Dr. K. J. Scudder, director of the Whittier State school for boys, who addressed members of the Parent-Teacher association of the Santa Ana high school and junior college last night in the high school music room. Dr. Scudder explained that the reason why an intensive program for "Safety" is being planned and carried out in Southern California now and through 1932 is in order to take care of the hundred of thousands of people coming here during that period.

"California will be the focal point of the eyes of the world for the next two years," explained Mrs. Irish. Soon we shall have the Olympic games with the attending hundreds of thousands of persons. Due to the lack of uniform national traffic laws all of these people will need help to prevent traffic accidents.

"Selfishness sits supreme in the driver's seat of our automobiles today," said Mrs. Irish in closing. "It is the greatest period of helplessness and happiness that will occur in my time or your time—there is and will be abroad a great spirit of helpfulness with its attendant reaction of happiness and kindness."

"Only by education can this spirit be fostered, and service clubs, women's clubs, schools, all public organizations and individuals are urged to do their best to weld public opinion to force our program to be a success." As a closing entertainment, Mac O. Robbins, chairman of the P-T-A. program committee, who presented the previous speakers, announced that the junior college quartet, composed of Mark Hare, James Lukens, Selmon Toelle and Howard Ross would sing several numbers to the piano accompaniment by Alan Revell, instructor of piano.

Before adjourning the meeting Dr. George Warner, president of the association, stated that Dr. Charles Barker, a speaker of national fame, had been secured through the courtesy of the Santa Ana Rotary club to make the next address, the date of which has not been set. Another tentative event for the future that he mentioned was an opera to be given in the spring of the year. Further, he urged that everybody turn out and support the benefit movie being sponsored by the local P-T-A. at the Fox Broadway theater next Friday in order to raise money for the junior college and high school Student Loan fund. Mrs. Samuel Hurwitz is chairman of the ways and means committee which is responsible for putting the benefit movie on.

SHERIFF RECEIVES THIRTEEN PISTOLS

The sheriff's office was better equipped today to do business. Thirteen new .45 caliber pistols, ordered sometime ago, arrived, and at the same time, the sheriff acquired four new sedans for his deputies. The cars are all of the kind termed in detective stories as "high powered" and Sheriff Jackson said the reason he wanted the pistols uniform was so that the same ammunition could be given out to each officer.

Development of hydro-electric plants in Italy is expected to reach a production of 10,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity by the end of this year.

"$1,000 COULDN'T BUY GOOD IT DID"

"Sargon overcame all my troubles, and I've gained eleven pounds," stated Ruel H. Murch, 4103 California St., San Francisco.

RUEL H. MURCH
"I suffered constantly from stomach disorders after I had an attack of acute indigestion six years ago. Dreadful pains would come on in the middle of the night, and it took many hot applications to bring relief. Constipation bothered me for years, and I lost so much weight I wasn't much more than a shadow of my old self. Sargon made a wonderful change in me! I have a remarkable appetite—everything seems to agree with me, and it's great to be able to sleep again. I'm brimful of strength and work with enthusiasm and vigor I haven't felt in years."
"Sargon Pills are the only laxative that ever regulated my liver and bowels. I wouldn't take $1,000 for what Sargon did for me."

For TEETHING troubles

FUSSY, fretful . . . of course babies are uncomfortable at teething time! And mothers are worried because of the little upsets which come so suddenly then. But there's one sure way to comfort a restless, teething child. Castoria—made especially for babies and children! It's perfectly harmless, as the formula on the wrapper tells you. It's mild in taste and action. Yet it rights little upsets with a never-failing effectiveness.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given to tiny infants—as often as there is need. In cases of colic and similar disturbances, it is invaluable. But it has every-day uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever older children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset, a more liberal dose of this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

OWNERS URGED TO WATCH ALL DOGS

ANAHEIM, Jan. 23.—Dogs known to have been bitten recently should be placed under observation and owners of such dogs should cooperate closely with health authorities in an effort to locate all animals which may have been attacked by a dog here which went amuck December 18 and which later was found to have had rabies, according to Ray Smith, sanitary inspector.

The dog became mad from the bite of a collie which went through this vicinity. Both of these dogs were killed and found to have positive cases of rabies, Smith said.

There is greater danger from a large dog which has rabies than a small one for the reason that a large dog attacks more persons and animals which he happens to run into in his blind flight down a street, the inspector declares. All dogs in the last stages of this disease become blind and snap at everything in their path the health officer says. They are unable to drink as their throats close and they never attack other animals or persons until shortly before the end of the disease.

2 AMENDMENTS TO HARBOR ACT NEWPORT PLAN

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 23.—Harbor workers here will be content at the present session of the state legislature with securing minor amendments to two of the acts at present on the statute books relating to harbor improvements, and will not seek to have a special act passed, it was stated today.

Following a recent decision of the state supreme court that the Ventura Harbor District act of 1927 was unconstitutional, methods of passing a similar law which would be valid were discussed, but it was decided to merely ask for amendments to two of the present laws and endeavor, if these amendments are secured, to see that they be done under the present laws, as they would be amended, during the next two years.

One of the amendments would make the harbor commissions provided for under the harbor improvement act passed in 1915, and amended in 1921, permanent. This is known as the county harbor improvement act, and was the legislation under which a $500,000 county bond issue was passed in 1919. It provides at present, however, that if a bond issue is defeated, as two were in 1924, the harbor commission goes out of existence. The amendment now sought would leave this act as it is, except that such a harbor commission would be permanent.

The other amendment was sought in the district harbor act passed in 1927, which provides that a harbor district may be formed in any county having a bay, like Orange county, and the only change desired is to eliminate a "joker" inserted before being passed, whereby the owners of 10 per cent of land within the proposed district may withdraw on their own decision, no matter how just or unjust their claims may be.

It is this joker which has resulted in the act not being used so far in any county in the state. It is said, were this 10 per cent joker eliminated.

Both of these acts are general, that is, they apply to the whole state. Both were inferentially approved by the supreme court in the Ventura Harbor District case, decided about a month ago. The Ventura act was declared invalid on the ground that these other acts could be made applicable, and the constitution declares that no local or special law may be passed if a general law can be made applicable.

A legislative committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce has been working for some time on this and other proposed legislation. Another law they may seek to have amended is that relating to the taxing of boats. The law at present allows boats to be assessed and taxed only in the city or county in which they are registered, which means a port of entry. If this could be changed, the city of Newport Beach and the county of Orange will be able to tax all boats in Newport harbor.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KIRCK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The little duck boys stopped and smiled. Said Clowney "Say, are these ducks wild? And, if they are, why don't they fly right out and get away? Or, maybe they are scared they'll fall. They don't seem worried. Not at all. I think it's mighty fine how, in the baskets, they all stay."

"They're trained," replied the little lad. "If they'd escape, it would be sad. You see, I'm bound for market where some money I will get. Perhaps they like to ride like this 'cause nothing ever goes amiss. I've never lost a single duck. Each one is like a pet."

"They're pets?" Wee Clowney spoke again. "I'd think you'd hate to sell them then. Whenever I have owned a pet, I learned to love it. Gosh! I wouldn't let it get away. Right with me it would always stay. How you can give these fine duck up, I really cannot see."

The boy looked sad, and slowly sighed. In just a moment he replied, "I never want to give them up, but have to, anyway. You see, we sell the fine duck meat for money so that we can eat. We buy all of our groceries with what I get every day."

Then Clowney tried to pet a duck. He really didn't have much luck. At first it tried to bite him. Then it quacked and quacked real loud. "Course Clowney looked astonished. He was just as frightened as could be. They way he jumped away and stared amazed the Tiny crowd.

"Just wait," cried Clowney. "You can bet that I will boldly pet him yet. He tried again and then the duck stood high upon its feet. The next thing that the Tinkles knew, into the air the mad duck flew. It landed right near Clowney and went running down the street.

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

While big, good natured George Blaeholder dabbles with his oranges at Garden Grove, serene in the knowledge that he is every inch major league timber and the object of more than one trader's attention, reports persist that the pitcher is about to be involved in a transaction that will send him to the world champion Philadelphia Athletics.

No less an authority than Connie Mack gave the rumor impetus, flimsy though its excuse for living might have been.

Mr. Mack, responding to an inquiry by St. Louis newspapermen said quite frankly that he would like to acquire young Blaeholder.

Hot stove gossip had Blaeholder and "Goose" Goslin, the slugging outfielder, going to the A's in exchange for "Mule" Hanes and Jimmy Moore, a couple of young outfielders.

"I don't deny that we should like to have Goslin and Blaeholder," Mr. Mack was quoted. "But I rather than St. Louis would certainly would not part with them. As for Hanes and Moore, I'm satisfied with both boys. They certainly have played well for the Athletics."

It wasn't long ago that Blaeholder's name figured in reports of a trade said to be brewing between the Browns and the New York Yankees.

At that time, Bill Killifer, the St. Louis manager, summarily denied that Blaeholder would be peddled. He was one of three or four who were simply not on the block, Killifer claimed. All the others were trading material, the manager added.

Blaeholder may not go elsewhere this year but eventually he surely will pass on to some other club. The big moundman is dissatisfied at St. Louis. It is questionable whether he ever will do his best under such conditions.

Blaeholder has always been at odds with the St. Louis business office and the old wound was aggravated last spring when the Browns argued with him over a nominal increase in salary. He frankly admits he wants to be traded. You can't blame him for wishing he would light in the land of big money and world series, New York and Philadelphia.

CYPRESS' SUCCESS

Bush league baseball, in the doldrums everywhere, abandoned by many high schools and colleges, continues to thrive at Cypress where Manager Steve Luther has assembled a wise, hustling group of ambitious youngsters.

Cypress' success brings to mind the "old days" at Irvine when "Dutch" Trickey steered a makeshift team to victory after victory, drew fans from all over Orange county.

Cypress is drawing crowds too, and its win and loss record is better than Irvine's.

Luther's standard-bearers have now won 17 successive games.

Their record since organiza-

MAXIE BAER MAY NEVER WIN HEAVY TITLE BUT HE'S GAME ENOUGH TO TRY FOR THE TOP

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Max Baer, the California adonis, may never reach the giddy heights of the heavyweight championship, but it won't be because he didn't try. You can't blame a youngster for trying and Baer, with only 17 months of actual ring warfare under his belt, took on Ernie Schaaf, a fellow who had been pounding along the road to recognition for five years! It has been my contention all along that it takes a fighter—a good fighter—five years to become good.

They've matched Baer and Tommy Loughran for Feb. 6 in Madison Square Garden. Right off the reel I'd say it was a bad match—for Baer. It won't be a bad match for Madison Square Garden because it will draw. But, with more than casual admiration for good looking young Baer, I must confess that he appears to have gone in over his head. I might be wrong but I'll have nine of every ten fight fans with me. How can this kid hope to beat a man of Loughran's finished ability?

Hand it to Baer. He took on Schaaf, cold turkey. It was awfully close, and only Schaaf's experience and his ability to pace himself won out for him.

Right back came Baer to face old Tom Heeney.

Tom smacked Baer around quite smartly for two rounds, but the kid was only laughing. He says he would have come on and finished Tom early. Maybe so.

Baer won't have to worry about being knocked out by Loughran. That burden will be on Tommy's mind. He knows that Tommy can't hit, and we may see this coast boy cut loose like they say he can.

tion September, 1929, is 57 victories, 8 defeats, one tie. Luther uses a squad of only 12 players. The youngest is 18, the oldest 23. Several of them go out for a whirl at professional ball this spring.

The Cypress club boasts of a nicely equipped baseball plant with a grandstand that accommodates 1000.

SHIPLEY STRIPS FOR ACTION

Roger Shipley, the boxing manager, got what he believes was unwarranted criticism out of the recent wrestling for the services of "Wild Man" Macias, Mexican welterweight.

The sportsman was especially incensed at the way Long Beach newshawks handled the yarn.

"The days of slavery are long past," Shipley exclaimed. "Macias will fight for whomever he pleases. There was nothing shady about my business affairs with him. Macias said to me, explained his plight, said he wouldn't box for the Darnley syndicate, asked me to handle his business."

"I investigated his status, considered him a free agent, signed him. I intend to fight to the limit for him too. Already I have taken the matter up with Governor Rolph."

Shipley is just as stubborn in his opinions as Darnley.

A long, hard winter and a lean spring is in prospect for all managers, to say nothing of Macias, the one chiefly at fault. By this time the "Wild Man" must have learned it is all right to be wild in the ring, not so smart to be promiscuous about signing contracts.

Meanwhile, "Jolting Joe" Goeders, a better fighter than Macias ever will be, goes on winning fight after fight for Shipley.

Goeders knocked off the dangerous Eddie Dugan at San Diego last week, goes right back into the main event spot tonight with a sailor fellow named Bernard Shaw.

I confess never having heard of Shaw but advertising literature describes him as the navy middleweight champion, former sparring partner of Young Stribling and, as a welterweight a couple of years ago, opponent of Vince Dundee, Sammy Baker and other good names.

Goeders has done mighty well since he came to Santa Ana. He has made more progress than any of our fighting fraternity. When he came to town he looked like he would run to flesh, yet he tells me that he weighs considerably less than when he arrived here two years ago. Although he fights as a light heavyweight, the Jolter is actually little more than a middleweight.

BEAR HUNTING

By GEORGE BRIGGS

Santa Ana
Sportsman and Big Game
Hunter

(This is the second of a series by Mr. Briggs relating to his recent hunting expedition into the big game country of the far north. Watch for them daily in The Register-Sport Editor's note.)

Always above timberline and often up in the peaks, going down a steep hill, we surprised a big bunch of ewes and lambs and while they began to climb and were soon lost to sight, their gait wasn't hurried. Finally, across a deep valley and in some steep hills, John said he saw another bunch of sheep and could plainly see the curved horns of the rams.

I could see sheep all right but couldn't locate the rams. I always carry two pair of good, high-powered binoculars, otherwise the Indian is sure to borrow mine when I am most interested, and then again, it does away with continual readjustment on account of our difference in vision.

We concluded to look the sheep over and made most of the climb on horses, to finish afoot and find

LOCAL QUINTET IN BATTLE FOR FIRST VICTORY

Swinging back into the league's machine of flying melons and skinned knees, Santa Ana high school's varsity basketball squad will be on the road for the first time tonight when they travel to Pasadena to face the strong Pasadena Bulldogs.

Pre-game dope indicates the Saints will receive no gentle reception as the Bulldogs have drawn their first two tussles into camp and intend to make a serious bid for the Coast Preparatory league title.

Coach Bill Cook believes he has perfected an ideal attack since the Saints were rather soundly beaten by Woodrow Wilson, 29 to 15, and now out in a thrilling Frank Merriwell finish by the Compton Tartars, 30 to 26 after the Saints had led most of the route. Santa Ana lost a close one this week to Orange but it showed Cook that he has a reliable set of reserves on his bench.

Hideo Higashi, star forward, again is in tip-top shape and that bolsters Saint hopes considerably. He has been slowed up for two weeks by a weak ankle. "Red" Klidder, the other first string forward, turned his ankle while warming up in the Orange game but will be in condition when the whistle blows tonight. Otherwise Santa Ana will go into the game physically fit and determined to bring home their first victory.

Max Stull is scheduled to start at center with Al Rebohn. Lawrence Lutz and Harold Pangle assigned to the guarding positions.

The "Bees" also travel to Pasadena and will raise the curtain on the varsity tiff. Although they are underdogs in record only they are ready to "shoot the works" against the Bulldogs. Coach Clyde Patton will start Conrad and Clark at forwards, Ricker in the center spot, and Cochems and Klepper or Chamberlain at guards. Taylor will probably see action also.

Coach Clyde Cook's undefeated Saint "Cees" leading their division of the Coast Preparatory league, were to oppose Pasadena's midgeirs in Andrews gymnasium here this afternoon. The Santa Ana Little Men are meted exceptionally strong this year. Many believe they are headed for the conference bunting. They were pre-game favorites over Pasadena.

Van Horne Wins Breakfast Club's Golf Tournament

Santa Ana Breakfast club golfers today were planning further tournaments as a result of the success of their first one at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday when H. Van Horne won blind bogey play with Dr. K. A. Loerch Jr., second and B. Z. McKinney third.

Two foursomes and a fivesome participated. D. G. Wetlin, R. G. Cartwright, O. S. Johnston and Jack Cope were in one foursome; L. R. Huber, Dr. V. C. Covel, Barney Kosher, B. Z. McKinney and Milton Johnson in another, while O. Lyons, H. Van Horne, Merritt White and Dr. K. A. Loerch Jr. made up the fivesome.

The golfers lunched at the club before beginning play.

POUGHKEEPSIE RACE TO BE RUN JUNE 17

Lott, Bell Clash In Tennis Finals

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—George Lott of Chicago, defending titleholder, met Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex., today in the feature semi-match in the Canadian covered courts tennis championships.

Two other Americans, J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., and Johnny Von Ryn of East Orange, N. J., met in the other semi-finals match.

Macias III, Taken To Parents' Home

LOS ALAMITOS, Jan. 23.—Jesus ("Wild Man") Macias, well known Los Alamitos welterweight pugilist, has been removed to the house of his parents at Simons. Macias suffered a nervous breakdown.

'JUMPING JOE' IS JERKING SODAS NOW

Fullback Joe Savoldi, whose plunges over the enemy line earned him the title of "Jumping Joe" at Notre Dame, is operating on a different line now. Here is Joe at his new job, jerking sodas in an ice cream dispensary. Mickey Eulo, manager of the shop, is watching Joe pour a soda for Miss Lee Strait.

Two Champions On Chicago Fistic Program

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Two world boxing champions—Christopher (Bat) Battalino, ruler of the featherweight division, and Junior Weltwright Champion Jack (Kid) Berg of England—will display their wares tonight in bouts at Chicago stadium.

Berg, an oddity as a champion in that he is willing to defend his honors against all comers, will risk his title against "Goldie" Hess of California in Chicago's first championship fight in more than two years.

Battalino, a more cautious brand of champion, has insisted that his opponent, Eddie Shea of Chicago, weigh two pounds above the featherweight limit.

NEVERS VS. SAVOLDI IN BAY GRID CLASH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—With both principals in training, bay region football enthusiasts speculated today on whether the defensive thrusts of Ernie Nevers will stop the headlong plunges of "Jumping Joe" Savoldi.

An encounter between the pair, a dream of theorists ever since Savoldi was catapulted into the national eye two years ago behind a great Notre Dame line, will become a reality Sunday when football makes its last bow in this region.

DIEGEL, ESPINOSA UNABLE TO QUALIFY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Over-golfed and out of condition, Leo Diegel, former national P. G. A. champion, watched the $5000 motion picture industries' open golf tournament from the sidelines today as match play began. Diegel shot himself out of the tournament yesterday by scoring a 77-81-158 for the 18 holes of qualifying play. He was joined in the sidelines by Al Espinosa, also a leading money golfer, who had a 76-76-152.

SCHAAF FAVORED TO SHELLACK BRADDOCK

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, is an 8 to 5 favorite to defeat James J. Braddock of Jersey City, in the 10-round feature bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Tonight's fight will mark Braddock's debut as a heavyweight. The Jersey scrapper, once a contender for the light heavyweight title, is now a legitimate heavyweight and is expected to weigh about 184 pounds.

HARVEY AND DUNDEE REMATCHED IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Len Harvey, middleweight champion of Europe, and Vince Dundee of Baltimore, have signed for a return match in Madison Square Garden February 13.

GARDEN GROVE. TUSTIN CAGERS CLASH TONIGHT

ORANGE LEAGUE STANDINGS

Team	W	L	Pct.
Tustin	2	0	100%
Brea-Olinda	2	0	100%
San Juan Capistrano	1	1	.500
Orange	1	1	.500
Anaheim	1	1	.500
Excelsior	1	1	.500
Huntington Beach	0	1	.000
Garden Grove	0	1	.000
Newport Harbor	0	2	.000

Tustin's sovereignty in Orange league basketball hangs in the balance tonight while Coach Bill Cole's champion Farmers are on the floor with one of the toughest teams in the conference—Garden Grove. The cagers clash in the fine new Garden Grove gymnasium.

The Peppers seldom win championships but usually produce teams good for at least one major upset a season. Garden Grove's basket shooters almost came through with a surprise two weeks ago when they led Brea-Olinda into the stretch, only to fall by the wayside in the end, 24-17. As Brea-Olinda is the only undefeated quintet in the league except Tustin, tonight's affair at least should give the prognosticators something to work on.

So far Tustin has rated strictly as the team to beat for the money. The Coleman ruthlessly defeated Excelsior as a starter, then won as they pleased from San Juan Capistrano, the dark horse entry that kicked over Anaheim in its first conference contest. Tustin's superior passing and shooting make the suburbanites favorites to repeat their success of last season.

The Tustin-Garden Grove set-to, beginning about 8:15 will be preceded by a skirmish between the Class B fives of the same schools. Orange and Anaheim, teams that have one bad game to make up for, meet at Anaheim. Despite their sloppy work against Excelsior last Friday, the Orangemen are picked to win.

Huntington Beach, reasonably sure to be one-two-three at the finish, travels to San Juan Capistrano for an array that should be close and spirited.

Excelsior and Newport Harbor are scheduled to play at Excelsior.

Brea-Olinda has the week's bye.

Troy-Bruin Game To Be Broadcast

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Basketball's first radio broadcast in Southern California will be staged tomorrow night when the University of Southern California-U.C.L.A. coast conference game will be put on the air by radio station KMTR. According to Arnold Eddy, general manager of S. C. KMTR, will broadcast all home court games of the Trojans this season. Saturday night's game will start at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a frolic contest between the Trojans and Bruins at 6:30 p.m.

Ball Status Here Depends On Finances

Santa Ana school athletic administrators were plunged in deeper thought today as a result of the action of the Orange league in abolishing baseball as an interschool sport for 1931.

G. A. ("Tex") Oliver, head of the physical education department, said the status of the game here depended, however, on the financial condition next semester of the high school and junior college student bodies rather than on a reaction to the Orange league's revolutionary move.

He admitted the no-baseball program of the Orange league would make it increasingly difficult for Santa Ana teams as in past years Saints and Dons have scheduled virtually all their practice contests with teams from the county prep conference.

Under the new conditions the local schools will have to limit their practice to games with each other or to occasional contests with aggregations from schools in leagues other than their own, such as Whittier, Riverside, Redlands and Pomona. "This would necessitate considerable traveling and attendant expense which is just what administration officials are trying to guard against."

That baseball and, for that matter, the entire spring sports program at Santa Ana high school and jaycee is in grave danger is freely admitted on the campus. Financial success will be asked of the city board of education, it is understood. If this is not forthcoming baseball, tennis, swimming and possibly track are doomed here for 1931.

'BIG SHOTS' OF BASEBALL ASK SALARY BOOSTS

BY LES CONKLIN (I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The hold-out season was under way in full swing today as a result of the action of Wes Ferrell, Cleveland's star pitcher, and Eddie Morgan, batting ace of the same club, in returning their 1931 contracts to Billy Evans unsigned.

Thus Cleveland got all of its bad news on one day, for Ferrell and Morgan are the two big shots of the team. Ferrell won 25 games last year, more than any other hurler in the American league except "Lefty" Grove, and his earned run average of 3.30 runs per game was bettered only by Grove and Ad Liska.

Morgan's tidy batting average of .350 was four points less than the mark of Johnny Hodapp of the same club, but Eddie's feat of hitting 26 four-baggers made him the home run king of the club and kept Cleveland fans in a lather of excitement.

Both Ferrell and Morgan were given substantial salary increases. But realizing their importance to the club, they are boldly demanding an even bigger lump of sugar.

Of course there is no doubt but that both will be in the lineup opening day. But coming in the wake of another salary wrangle, then demand of the two Cleveland aces is an indication of the fact that big league stars are determined to horn in on the record profits rolled up by most of the baseball magnates last year.

BIG LEAGUE STARS ASK SALARY BOOST

York Yankees, also returned his contract a day or two ago because he thought he deserved a larger increase than was offered him. Lary evidently figures that Bill Werber, the classy recruit who came up from Duke university last year, has little chance of supplanting him.

And then there are the old reliables, "Dazzy" Vance and "Babe" Herman of the Brooklyn. They are charter members of the holdout club. In view of the fact that his earned run average was lower than that of any other pitcher in the big leagues last year, Vance is said to be considerably peeved at the club's action in tendering him a one-year document the other day calling for $20,000. "Dazzy" wants a two-year contract at $25,000 per annum.

The Brooklyn club is not worried about Herman because the officials know that "Babe" would rather play ball than eat. The Dodger slugger made a gallant stand last spring but at the last moment was unable to withstand the lure of the crack of the bat meeting horsehide, and accepted the club's terms.

Los Gehrig of the Yankees is another alleged holdout who is too fond of the game to remain out of the fold for long.

"Hack" Wilson, home run king of the National league, has just denied he wants $40,000, as reported. The Cub slugger committed a tactical error in denying anything. It's much easier to come down than to go up, as the guy in the parachute remarked.

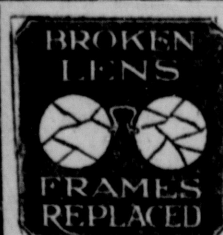

The St. Louis Cardinals expect to have trouble signing "Chick" Hafey. Al Simmons, the only star of the Athletics unsigned, probably will prove to be the most stubborn holdout of the lot. The New American league batting champion did not come to terms last spring until battling practice for the opening game was under way.

only a ewe and two small kids. I was much interested in the Indian's approach for a picture, of which he got two very good ones. Not yet convinced, John insisted he had seen rams. Well, they weren't "among those present" so we returned to the horses. The pack train had gone on a couple of miles and was feeding and waiting for us.

Thousand Yards Away

Starting to join them, we both saw at about the same time, perched on a high knoll about 1000 yards away, a three-year-old ram watching us. We immediately turned down a swale, left the horses out of sight and, getting a raise of ground between the sheep and us, crawled back to within about 500 yards of the little ram. From this point we could look beyond and over quite a lot of country which arose to considerable peaks and then broke roughly down 1500 feet or more of impassable going. On one of the steepest points and what was, in fact, a small circular projection, lower than one peak but much higher than the others, was our bunch of rams, some 500 yards beyond the small ram, and in all, about 1000 yards from us.

A closer approach was impossible on account of the little fellow and except that way there was no other possible approach for a shot. We were now out of sight of the small ram and if only he would leave there was a possible approach behind the small hill that would let me get within about 100 yards of the big rams.

Magnificent Sight

For the present there was nothing to do but wait for the small ram either to leave or join the big ones. Never in all my life have I seen such a magnificent sight as that bunch of big rams in a spaced semi-circle, their flanks to this impossible drop. This little place they had selected was jutting out from the main range and was probably 40 by 75 feet, with only one entrance and that toward us. This then, if we could approach behind the little hill into shooting distance, was the only weakness in their selected resting place. The binoculars brought the sheep before our eyes. It was the little fellow's first move and while the wait was long I reveled in the sight, and we commented on the length and size of the horns. One large and dark ram seemed to have selected a rough bed for he got up, turned around several times, made as if to lay down, changed his mind, doubled up his legs but didn't quite select the spot and finally after an effort or two got down with the others, all facing out.

Indian Humor

During this performance I said to John: "What is the matter with that ram? Why doesn't he lie down?" to which he replied without a smile: "He old man like you; his legs stiff and he can't lay down quick like young man, and this without trying to be smart or funny—and maybe he was right. Anyway he looked surprised and ashamed when I had a good, big laugh over the remark.

Lying flat, we kept peering over the little rise, hoping the small ram would leave. After a while he went towards the others. Now was our chance. Bending low and going single file, we made good time, concealed or hidden by the little knoll that was our only protection. We crawled the last 50 or 60 yards and I was a little winded and lay flat while John peeked over. We had both parked our hats when we started and now the plan was for John to pick the best heads with the glasses, while I shot the ones indicated. (The Indian and white guides here never carry a gun; a good thing.)

Scores Hit

"The gray one on the right"—and I scored a hit but didn't kill dead, shooting between 90 and 100 yards. Not so good for at that distance I should have been able to place the shot exactly.

At the shot the sheep whirled to the left and madly raced around the 40 by 75 space to come back and face the direction from which the shot came for even a mountain sheep wouldn't risk going over and down that precipice.

With the glasses focused, lying flat, side by side, with only our eyes above the ground, (I had carefully John indicated the big dark fellow, he of the stiff legs, who was facing our direction. I shot and an sure missed. Again I shot at the same ram and hit him hard. They could stand this pounding no longer so began to pile off, pell-mell and run broadside just below us.

A Lucky Stop

I was certain I had my two sheep so shot no more. The big gray ram, my first one, had pitched among the first and lay head uphill, dead, with his horns caught in a rock, otherwise he would have rolled to destruction—surely a lucky stop. The big dark one was lying on the slide rock where the others had gone.

A few more feet and he, too, would have rolled down that awful hill.

I wouldn't risk the slide rock but John went over, pulled the ram to where he could skin out the neck, cut off the head and let the body go, hurtling and bounding down the mountain. During this time I had managed to get the gray one to where I could work on it and when John came, we moved it to where it would be safe until the morning, when he would bring a pack horse over for the heads and meat. Mountain sheep is the most wonderful meat in all the world, as all agree.

I was well pleased with the heads, the gray measuring 15 by 38 1-2 and the dark 14 1-2 by 35 1-2—nice heads.

PURDUE VS. TECH

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 23.—Purdue's football team, Big Ten champion in 1929 and runner-up in 1930, will invade the east next year to meet Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh, Pa., in an intersectional tilt according to announcement of Director of Athletics N. A. Kellogg.

TEAM OF GIANTS

Sixteen of Washington State's first string football team that met Alabama in the Tournament of Roses game New Year's day were six feet or more in height. Five others were 5 feet 11 inches tall and another pair was 5 feet 10 inches in height.

Totem poles of American Indians are monuments to their dead, and not their idols.

Over 1000 Persons Hear Billy Sunday In Fullerton

HUNDREDS ARE UNABLE TO GET INTO BUILDING

More than 1000 people crowded the First Methodist church of Fullerton last night to hear Billy Sunday, nationally known evangelist, who is appearing in Southern California for a few days.

With the church crowded to capacity almost an hour before Sunday appeared, hundreds of people were forced to find standing room in the church while others were turned away from the church due to lack of space.

Sunday, who is said to have preached to eighty million people, has won more than a million people to Christianity, it is reported.

Speaking on the "Christian's Hope for Salvation," Sunday declared:

"There is only one hope in the world today which is of any value and that is the Christian's hope. Hope makes people endure tortures. They have hope for what the future may hold in store for them, and without the hope of heaven, life would be unbearable.

"People today are going crazy looking for the thing that will bring them contentment and rest of soul. The rich people cannot find it. Many of the richest people in the world are the people who are the most unhappy and the most discontented. God has given the people of America every benediction which they could ask for and yet they are not contented. The influence of the church has brought about many of the blessings in our country today. Many moral men who spurn the church do not realize that they learned their morals and their high standards from the influence of the church.

"None of the material things of life will ever bring us contentment or hope for the soul. Pleasure does not satisfy in spite of the fact that many people make fools of themselves in an effort to have contentment.

"Neither does fame bring contentment. The great leaders of the world and the military men are popular for a time but they are soon forgotten. Where are the leaders of the late World War? Some of them are dead but the ones who are living are practically forgotten. All the material things of life without Christ will not lift you one inch toward heaven.

"The fact that the bible is the only great book in the world is evidenced in the fact that many of our great leaders and presidents have declared that the bible is the rock on which the American republic stands, and they have declared that only as long as the bible is in the United States will the country endure.

BEATS OBSTACLES

Elsie Lee Huffine, below, is 12 years of age and is to graduate this year from the Spurgeon school despite the fact that she has been deaf for four years as a result of spinal meningitis. Other obstacles she has overcome in the last four years are measles, whooping cough and a severe automobile accident. Although she has been forced to lose two years of school time she has kept "hammering away" and now she is about to win her reward.

"God reveals himself to the world in three ways, by creation, by providence and by word. The only things that you know of the future are what you get out of the bible. The word of God is the final seat of authority rather than our individual opinions. You may not know what you are going to do tomorrow, but you cannot afford to not know where you are going to spend eternity.

"Because Adams and Eve sinned it became necessary for Christ to come into the world and die to save us from eternal death. There is only one way to get to heaven and that is by the shed blood of Jesus Christ. God will not accept material things in return for salvation.

"The blessings that belief on Jesus Christ has given a Christian are too numerous to mention but there are three things which it has taken out of the Christian's life. First belief has taken away the fear of death; second, it has taken away the guilt of sin; third, it has taken away the burden of sin and guilt and fourth, belief on Jesus Christ has taken away fear of the judgment," the speaker concluded.

Sunday will appear before the Federated Brotherhood of Churches tonight in San Diego and tomorrow will speak at the Temple Baptist church in the morning. At the Bible Institute in the afternoon, and will leave Sunday evening for Florida.

Numerous favorite songs which the evangelist uses in his services were sung by a male chorus last night with Glenn H. Lewis in charge. Revival hymns also were sung by the congregation. Sunday's appearance in Fullerton was made possible through the efforts of members of the church brotherhood of the city.

The 50,000th telephone in the city of Syracuse, N. Y., was installed the other day, just fifty years after the first telephone exchange was established in the city with sixteen subscribers.

GIRL WINS IN LONG STRUGGLE WITH HANDICAP

Although severely handicapped by having lost her hearing after having been stricken with spinal meningitis four years ago, Elsie Lee Huffine, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Huffine, 718 Cypress, will graduate this year from the Spurgeon school as an outstanding pupil.

Immediately after recovering from the spinal meningitis, Elsie was taken ill with a bad case of measles. She had hardly recovered from this when she contracted the whooping cough. Her whole right side and eye were paralyzed during her illness with meningitis. Two years ago Elsie was in an automobile accident in Long Beach and was so badly injured that she was not expected to live. A wheel of the car was resting on her when she was removed from the wreck and taken to the hospital. On the operating table in the hospital Elsie recovered enough to tell about the accident. Despite these obstacles she has kept working away and now she is about to win her diploma.

After having become deaf Elsie was sent to a lip reading school in Long Beach, conducted by Miss Anna Minnahan. Pupils in this school are usually kept until they graduate from grammar school but it was only necessary for Elsie to stay one year until she had mastered the art of lip reading. But altogether she was out of grammar school for nearly two years because of her misfortunes.

Elsie excels in many of her studies. Last quarter she had the highest spelling record in her class. She is so proficient in reading and art. Elsie's hobby is art, and she can make a very handsome woman out of "Maggie" in the funny papers.

According to Miss Alice Wagner, principal of the Spurgeon school, Elsie has done remarkably well, considering her terrific handicap. If any of the teachers' words escaped Elsie, there were several pupils in the class who would repeat them to her. In this manner she could understand all that was happening.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF SOUTHLAND CONVENE HERE

The Fairview and Birch street Church of Christ was host last night to the monthly meeting of the Young People of the Church of Christ in Southern California. Delegates from practically all the churches in the district were present, according to J. W. Harp, pastor of the church.

A group of 50 from Long Beach was in charge of the program at the meeting and a cast of 15 young people presented several short skits and tableaux. The presentations were interspersed with gospel songs one of which—"Rock of Ages"—was acted out by the group as it was sung. Ernest Beam, minister of the Long Beach church, was in charge of the program and was assisted by Harold Clark, song leader.

Among the presentations which featured the evening program were the story of Elijah, the Lord's Supper and the Agony of Gethsemane. Harold Hilders is correspondent for the Young People of the host church.

SWALES TALKS AT GATHERING OF ATTORNEYS

The Orange County Bar association met last night in the Anaheim Elks club for a dinner and business meeting. Dinner was served in the dining room at 6:30 p.m.

The featured speaker was L. G. Swales, of Santa Ana, who talked on channel islands off the California coast. Swales travels up and down the coast a great deal in his yacht and the information imparted to the club was first hand.

In speaking of the San Clemente island, Swales told of the large herds of sheep that are raised there. More than 20,000 sheep are exported from the island annually. Wild boars and other types of wild life including humming birds abound there, according to Swales. Santa Rosa island boasts a red fox that is quite tame and makes friends with people who visit the island.

Horace Head of Santa Ana, former president of the association, reported that plans were being made to shift the county law library from the Bank of Italy building to the court house.

Thirty members attended the meeting.

Control RED SCALE

THIS YEAR there has been a serious increase in the number of Red Scale, due to favorable climatic conditions. Experience has shown that no Red Scale program is complete unless fumigation is used...and winter fumigation has proven very effective if the gas is introduced under the tent by the improved methods developed and sponsored by this company. Such fumigation secures diffusion for the shortest space of time and insures contact with every insect on the tree. Heavier dosages may be used safely during the winter.

If you have failed to control Red Scale you can still do so, because winter fumigation is practical and economical. Have your fumigator check your grove and advise the best time to fumigate.

E. Farr, in her home at 907 North Sycamore street.

All manner of merry games were played by the children, under the direction of Mrs. Farr and Master Jackie's young mother, Mrs. Goetting, while adding to the joy of the afternoon was the unusual fact that the small lad had two great-grandmothers present to share in the celebration.

They were Mrs. Margaret Carmichael of Tustin, and Mrs. Adams of South Broadway, Santa Ana.

Happy Group Enjoys Third In Birthday Party Series

For three consecutive years the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Causley has been the setting on each January 22, of a happy gathering of young mothers and their tiny children, for the date is the anniversary of little Miss Barbara Causley's birthday.

Mrs. Causley has made it a celebration of definite charm and enjoyment.

Yesterday the little maid reached her fourth year, and the same group which celebrated the first anniversary with her when she was just a year old, was again assembled for the afternoon.

Mrs. Causley adopted a pretty pink and green color scheme for the party, making the home at 1903 South Ross street, a colorful setting for the event. The young mothers were all interested in the progress and development of the children who have been brought into such a happy contact over the period covering their infancy and their childhood, and wishes were expressed for an unbroken companionship for many years to come of this group of little people all of whom were born in Santa Ana.

Among the games of the afternoon was that old favorite of pinning the tail on the donkey, and little Miss Jacqueline Meric was awarded a prize for her skill. Each child received a brightly-colored balloon as favor, and all shared with Barbara Jeanne, her pleasure in the many pretty gifts which she received.

As the afternoon drew to a close, the children were seated at the dining room table, where a pretty design of feathery green ferns tied with pale pink bows, was effective against the snowy damask. Pink and green nut cups were filled with mints in the same colors, while the pink edged plates rested on green doilies.

The birthday cake, loveliness in delicate green, bore four small pink candles, and was served with moulded ice cream to harmonize. While the children enjoyed sitting at the charming table, their mothers were served in the living room.

The little group called together again so happily, was composed of Mrs. Baird T. Spell and her children, Jacqueline and Naydene; Mrs. Ellen Davenport and daughter Dorothy Ellen; Mrs. Homer Hackler with Patsy Ruth and Master Bobbie, the only representative of his sex; Mrs. Thomas Duncan and daughter, Beverly Jeanne; and Mrs. Aleida L. Meric and daughter, Rose Marie, together with Mrs. Causley and little Miss Barbara Jeanne.

Those present, other than the hostess, Mrs. Patton, were Mrs. M. O. Wells of Costa Mesa and Mrs. T. B. McMullen. Mrs. Alvina McMullen, Mrs. Hulda Yackel, Mrs. Florence Hicks, Mrs. Herman Smith and Mrs. H. O. Garlock of this city.

Cannons Have Family Party Near Anaheim

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cannon were dinner hosts last evening when they entertained a little group of relatives in their ranch home just west of Anaheim. The appetizing menu was served at an early hour and was followed by a social evening. This was an occasion for unusual rejoicing as a new member of the family just arrived early this week when Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon became the parents of a son, Paul Garner Cannon.

Those present, other than Mr. and Mrs. Cannon and daughter, and sons, Juanita, Lyle and Lloyd, were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Schlink and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cannon of this city and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cannon of Col. Ia.

Hermosa O. E. S.

Nothing was lacking to make Wednesday evening's poverty party of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., in I. O. O. F. hall, a genuine success. Guests were decked in the oldest and most dilapidated clothes imaginable, and contributed much to the congenial spirit of the evening. Even the program was in harmony with the old-time costumes, for Dr. R. O. Grover played old-fashioned dance numbers on his banjo-harmonica and Albert Stuart gave several dialect readings.

Regular lodge meeting preceded the program, with Mrs. Grace Wilson, worthy matron, presiding. Fifteen past matrons and patrons were escorted to the east, and Mrs. Amber Burke, deputy grand matron, gave brief instructions about the floor work. J. P. Williams, worthy patron, spoke concerning the progress being made on the new Masonic temple, stating that it will no doubt be ready for occupation in June. Especially enjoyable was the community singing, a new feature inaugurated by the newly elected grand worthy matron of the California jurisdiction. Her official visit will take place February 12, at which time Hermosa chapter and other Orange county chapters will meet at Orange with Scepter chapter as hostesses.

Following the program an informal session of old-time games was enjoyed. To conclude the evening guests adjourned to the banquet hall where sandwiches, ginger bread, coffee, milk and molasses taffy were served by the flickering glow of candles resting in old bottles. Carrot tops decked the tables.

Special guests of the evening were Mesdames Merrill, Frisby, Marguerot Gibbs and Barlow representing chapters from Michigan, Mt. Shasta, Chicago, Iowa and Minneapolis.

The next meeting will be held February 3, and at this time officers will be in charge of the program with Mrs. Lola Osterman, associate matron, as chairman.

An evening of games was enjoyed, and to conclude the social time the hostess served refreshments. About 17 members of the class were present.

Musicians who aided the choir of the Church of the Messiah in presenting a feature of the Christmas program were complimented on a recent evening when members of the choir were hosts. A pot luck dinner in charge of John Lacy Taylor was served at 7:30 o'clock in the Guild hall. Tables were decked with red sweet peas.

Preceding the supper at 8 o'clock, there was a choir rehearsal. The evening was concluded with social time and several games of solitaire. The blazing fire in the fireplace of the hall added a note of cheer and genuine hospitality to the occasion.

NEWCOMBS GOOD SHOES

ORANGES and

SHOES

Starting in April, Orange County will ship one of the largest Valencia crops in its history. Who will buy these oranges at prices that will bring a profit to the grower? Certainly it will not be the thousands of shoe workers who are only working part time making only sufficient to buy the bare necessities of life. Buy a pair of shoes now, bring in the whole family, fit them to new shoes, thereby giving these thousands full time employment, so they can buy your oranges when they are shipped to the big industrial areas in the east. You will not only benefit them, but you will put real dollars in your own pocket.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Pineapple-Cheese Frozen Salad

1 cup crushed pineapple

4 tablespoons sugar

Juice of 1 1/2 lemons

2 tablespoons gelatin

1-2 cup cold water

Pinch of salt

1 cup grated nippy cheese

1 cup heavy cream

2 egg whites, beaten dry

This is one of my prized recipes, one which I have published several times and am glad to do so again at the request of a reader. This is truly a marvelous luncheon and supper salad, but too rich for dinner use.

Measure out the cup of pineapple, draining off what juice will fall out of the cup. Add to it the sugar, set on the fire and let it slowly heat. Soften the gelatin in the half cup of cold water, then add to the hot pineapple and stir until dissolved.

Take from fire, add the lemon juice and salt and set aside to get cold and begin jellifying. Just at this stage fold in the grated cheese, then the whipped whites of eggs. Leave for a few moments to jelly still further, then finish by folding in the cream, beaten stiff. Put the salad into the freezing pan and chill for four hours.

Unmould, cut in slices and serve on lettuce with a good tart mayonnaise or a boiled fruit salad dressing, fluffed and thinned with stiffly beaten egg white, not cream.

The calories for this salad run a

IN "THE PASSION FLOWER"

BIG CROWDS ATTEND "MIN, BILL" SHOW

Real entertainment, some of the best acting that has been seen here in several months and a plot that will appeal to every kind of an audience is seen in "Min and Bill," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture now showing at the Fox Broadway theater. The picture shows here through Sunday night.

A story with a heart interest that is appealing, it deals with an old woman, who operates a waterfront cafe and rooming house, whose great love for a little girl brings her to a terrible end, but there is a world of comedy interspersed through the picture that leaves the audience in a good frame of mind at the end.

The girl, played by Dorothy Jordan, grows up but is never told who her real mother is, a woman of ill repute. How Min guards her from this secret is one of the striking things about the picture and how she sacrifices in the end to keep the child in ignorance of it go to make the picture doubly entertaining. Wallace Beery, as a fisherman, in love with Min gives a wonderful performance.

Little bit over 2000, with energy makers in the lead. This is no salad for those who must watch weight.

Next to last call for Ann's Cook Book, No. XI, Fish. This leaflet is on the free list this week, today, and tomorrow will see its finish, so why not send me your stamped, self-addressed envelope right now so that I may send you this important part of the leaflet cook book?

VAUDEVILLE TODAY AT FOX WEST COAST

Another bill of high class vaudeville is promised patrons of the Fox West Coast theater for the three days starting today, which will be seen with the showing of "The Passion Flower," which also starts a three-day run.

Bee Ho Gray and company, the knife throwing and roping act which played at the Fox Broadway theater in the New Year's Mid-night show, is one of the acts on today's bill. Others include Harriett and Bill Hutchins, comedians; McCormack and Wallace, comedians; Orville Stam and Pal, a dog act with music, and the Gus Vesser trio, a perch act.

On the mezzanine floor of the theater during the three days of vaudeville Madame Lazelle, famous clairvoyant, will give free readings to women patrons of the theater. She will answer any question asked her, whether it be in the past or the future. Madame Lazelle is well known throughout the country because of her ability to see into the future and any woman in Santa Ana is privileged to an interview during Friday, Saturday or Sunday at the theater.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 23.—The houses located in the portion of New Westminster on the former Vogt tract and which are served by the Garden Grove R. F. D., may soon be receiving additional mail service if a petition which is being put out carries on the proposal offered. The petition calls for house to house service from the rural carrier. There are at present six families who would benefit by the change.

Mrs. Mary Johnson underwent a minor operation at St. Joseph's hospital Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCloud are enjoying a visit from their son, Oakley McCloud, of Minneapolis, Minn., who arrived Tuesday as a guest in their home. It has been several years since Mr. and Mrs. McCloud have seen their son.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lawrence entertained as guests in their home Sunday, Mr. Lawrence's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nausebaum, of Riverside. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence visited in Santa Ana with their brother-in-law, Reuben Farnsworth, who had a minor operation performed on one of his arms a few days before.

Ralph Lawrence was ill a few days this week and was under a physician's care as a result.

Lester Fowler and young daughter, Byrl Cleo, of Los Angeles, were callers Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Addie L. Blakey. Lester Fowler is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Fowler, who for a number of years owned the present Dick Haster 40 acres on Seventeenth street, and he had not been in the community since before the removal of the family from here some years ago. Fowler, who has been in business in Oakland since he was relieved from the aviation service at the close of the world war, has but recently transferred to Los Angeles, where he and his family now reside. He brought the word of the recent death of his father, who passed away quite suddenly while on a visit to relatives in his native city of Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Price, Mrs. J. J. Stover and Mrs. Rachel Collins, of Orange were callers the same afternoon in the Blakey home.

Rivers Allen, of New Westminster, entered the Huntington Beach high school this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Chamberlin have added a large room to their residence on Westminster avenue. The carpentry work has all been done by Mr. Chamberlin, who is now putting the priming coats of paint on both the exterior and interior, the room being all but completed.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Campbell and children, Barbara and Dee, were recent dinner guests in the evening at the home of Mr. Campbell's sister, Mrs. Laura Young, in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cooper, of North Long Beach, and Mrs. Cooper's mother, Mrs. Virginia Cooper, were entertained as Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Chamberlin. W. E. Hart, is spending this week in Long Beach.

The fruit stand which has been located at the northwest intersection of Seventeenth street and Huntington Beach boulevard, has been moved away this week by the owner, Mr. Allen, who recently opened for business here, expects to put up a stand of his own at which time he expects to have a stock of bunch vegetables as well as fruits. Mr. Allen at present is selling from his truck.

Harry Hopkins, of Olive street, left Monday for Los Angeles to report for work. Mr. Hopkins' family will join him in the city shortly.

ly will join him in the city shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hoppe, of Long Beach, were entertained on Sunday as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hart.

Mrs. Linna Loomis and sister, Miss Clara Miller, were calling in this community from Long Beach Monday.

HANSEN

HANSEN, Jan. 23.—The executive board and the reading circle of the Savanna P. T. A. met Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium of the school building. The P. T. A. members are planning to have a founder's day program the Friday evening of February 6. Mrs. Mary B. Robinson and Mrs. Marie Beisel will give talks on the founding of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bowman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman and daughter, Eualda, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan and Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hammond, of Costa Mesa, spent the week end with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hammond.

Mrs. Charles Peters entertained Tuesday, Mrs. Herbert Priest and Mrs. James Doe, of Los Angeles. On Thursday Mrs. Nancie Bassett, of Los Angeles, was a guest. Mr. G. H. Peters and Mr. Bassett were partners in the real estate business before Mr. Peters moved to Hansen.

Mrs. Lukins, Mrs. T. W. Clark and Mrs. R. Hyton attended the executive meeting of the P. T. A. held at La Habra Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Harris have made several trips to the Seaside hospital in Long Beach, to visit their daughter, Mrs. Bevie McGarvin, of Long Beach, who is a patient there, having had a major operation.

CONSTIPATION BRINGS MANY ILLS

Do you know that constipation often brings despondency? Poisons spread through the system. You lack pep. Headaches become frequent. No wonder you have the "blues."

Yet constipation can be overcome by having sufficient roughage in your diet. A pleasant way to obtain this roughage is through eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

You will enjoy this delicious cereal. And how much better for you than taking habit-forming laxatives.

Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN, eaten daily, will relieve and prevent both temporary and recurring constipation.

ALL-BRAN also contains needed iron to build up the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

OCEANVIEW

OCEANVIEW, Jan. 23.—The Oceanview boys' team played the Huntington Beach elementary team Tuesday, with a score of 24 to 9 in favor of the local boys. The lineup follows: Oceanview, Joe Stinson, Fernin Hernandez, Joe Guerra, Ryl Cowling and Robert Tanner; Huntington Beach, Winegate, Frost, Hilton, Katye, Beeson and Schenfield.

On Wednesday afternoon Oceanview boys and girls lost in league games held at Oceanview, the boys' score being 11 to 6 and the girls' 27 to 7 in favor of their opponents, Seal Beach.

There has been considerable illness of a minor nature reported in Oceanview school since Thursday of last week, all the way from 26 to 28 pupils being reported as absent each day.

Two of the school faculty, Miss Susan Russell and Miss William Adams, missed a day from the school room this week as the result of illness.

WESTMINSTER

Mrs. W. L. Porter has received word from her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nearing, who are enroute north after spending several months at Long Beach.

Mrs. Oakley Stephenson, who has been in the east since before New Year's day, called by the illness of her mother, is expected home this week.

SILENT ROAD

PASSIAC, N. J.—It is not improbable that sometime in the future automobile traffic will move noiselessly over rubber-paved streets. Experiments have already been conducted here with this type of road on the Second Street bridge. The road is composed of hexagonal rubber blocks set in plastic cement.

Not A Cheap Help But Safest For Deep Coughs

Creomulsion is not the cheapest help for coughs from colds. It is made to do the utmost, whatever the condition. It combines in one prescription seven of the world's best helps. It is made in particular for coughs from colds which hang on. There is where one dare not risk a help of lesser value. But is it wise in any cough to trust a less effective help?

Creosote is in it, blended, emulsified and tasty. In an ideal way it presents the supreme help for soothing membranes and combating cold germs. But there are also white pine tar, wild cherry bark, menthol, ipecac, etc. Each is best for some coughs. Here we combine all major helps to fight coughs to the limit from the start. Because of this expensive combination, Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. The price is $1.25, but your druggist guarantees it. He returns your money if you ask for it.

A three-day cough is a danger signal. There you must use Creomulsion to be sure. But is it wise to trust any cough to lesser help when the utmost is at your command? You never know where a cough may lead. Treat it with the best men know.

Try Magnesia for Stomach Trouble

To Neutralize Acidity and Fermentation. Prevents Indigestion, Sour Gassy Stomach.

People who suffer from indigestion usually have tried peppermint, charcoal, soda and various digestive aids and get little more than slight temporary relief—sometimes not even that. But before giving up to chronic dyspepsia, just try the effect of a little Blumated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Blumated Magnesia which you can obtain from any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, jumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without a fear of indigestion.—Adv.

UNEMPLOYMENT APPLES

In almost every city of the country, East and West, the unemployed are on the street corners selling nice, rosy, polished apples at five cents apiece. Naturally the sale has been very large, for there are hundreds of thousands of people scattered through the cities of our great land who are very willing to surrender five cents now and then to help solve the problem of unemployment.

An English visitor in New York has not been very favorably impressed with this method of solving the problem of unemployment. In fact, she has written back to one of the papers of her own country saying that it is a disgrace to a rich country like America that we are permitting the thousands of men to become street corner mendicants who under normal conditions would not lower themselves to be placed on a par with beggars selling lead pencils or hair pins. The moral effect upon men who are compelled to turn to this method for their support is very bad, she said.

But much as we are inclined to agree with this visitor, there is a phase of this unemployment apple selling which is suggestive as well as significant. These apples which are being sold are furnished by the wholesalers of the country to the unemployed on a commission basis. So great has been the demand for these unemployment apples, so it has been reported, that the market for high grade selected apples has risen 50 per cent since the inception of the apple selling campaign.

Here we have an illustration of what needs to be done to bring about a revival of business. If this apple selling campaign could be carried out in other lines of business, it would only be a matter of a short time before the productive machinery of the country would begin to function. Stocks are low, the people have gotten into the mood of holding off in purchasing, and an attitude of uncertainty and timidity pervades all business. What is needed is that business men devise some ways of starting the people buying other things besides apples. The Dennison Manufacturing Company, for example, had vision enough to foresee the coming depression, and when it came it was ready with new products for which it saw a demand. It started to make up paper caps, such as are used at parties and dinners, and a soft wax which could be molded by children into the forms of animals and other objects. Then it started the selling department getting busy; an advertising campaign was put on; and the result has been that the factory has continued right on through the depression with scarcely any unemployment.

These business depressions have come periodically in our country. To a certain extent they are inevitable. But there is little questioning that if far-sighted planning of business were made, the extreme severity of these recurring depressions would be very much lessened. This is the lesson of the unemployment apples.

Prices of eggs fell to a new season low in Chicago the other day. Probably in obedience to someone's order there to scam.

A FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR INDIA

The Indian conference in London has finished its work, and the result is a proposal for a new system of government for India to which the leaders of all the political parties have given their approval. The British government has again shown its political wisdom in the face of a great crisis. It does not meet all the demands of the extremists in India, any more than the establishment of the Irish Free State met all the demands of the extremists in Ireland. But in all probability the good sense of the leaders in India will prevail, and even Mr. Gandhi, it is hoped, will see the wisdom of accepting the compromise.

The proposal provides for a Federal government for the Indian states. The Viceroy is to have control of the foreign affairs, defense, and in part, the finances of the country. A responsible cabinet, removable by a two-thirds vote of the two chambers, is to be appointed. To each of the states and provinces is reserved the right to manage its local affairs. The "untouchables," those wretched unfortunates who were the scorn and the contempt of all, are to have representation like all other classes. There is every assurance that much will follow if the Home government can be assured that in this more limited degree India shows itself fit for independence.

Should the scheme suggested meet the approval of the Indian congress, India will have every opportunity to begin to make its way among the nations of the world. As with Ireland, India's troubles are by no means over when, and if, the scheme is accepted. Sometimes internal dissensions are more difficult to control than the rule of an alien power. In the latter case, it is not so difficult to present a united front. Family quarrels are always harder to deal with than quarrels between rival families. Great Britain will be well rid of an irritating problem if the proposal of the Government is adopted by Parliament, as it is likely to be, and is accepted by the Indian Congress. Incidentally, it will be another victory for the Labor government, which has been so successful thus far in its foreign policy.

LEARNING GOLF

Science has been putting new vigor into the middle-aged by proving that they can still learn. It has given the lie to the old adage that opportunity knocks but once. Life has become glorious. Opportunity knocks again and again. This discovery or proof that men can still learn well after forty has been far better than any rejuvenating gland treatment. It has renewed hope, ambition, vigor, instilled a scorn of the inferiority complex.

But now, in the midst of all this happiness, comes one who says that the adult can't learn golf. A writer in the New York Times expresses astonishment at the strange phenomena of a golfer's unnatural craving for instruction. Golf is the only sport, he says, in which man seeks the aid of regular and professional instruction as a matter of course.

It does grown men little good to be told how the stroke should be made or even to be shown how it is made. Golf is learned by imitation. The best golfers have learned their game through games of companionate golf with good players when they were young enough to imitate the good player's every nuance of form.

So it would seem, if we are to believe what we read, that we can learn Spanish and French and handicraft, and bridge but we can't learn golf because we have lost the ability to imitate since we have grown up.

Someone is always trying to prove that the human being "can't" possibly do something and then along comes a rare one or two who desire sufficiently to do it to bend every faculty in them, including some that are dormant, and so achieve the doing and eventually hundreds of others are surprised to find that they can do it, too, in spite of those who told them they couldn't. One old adage that hasn't been disproved yet is: Where there is a will, there is a way.

Franklin: 1706—1931

Christian Science Monitor

America, in its youthful days as a colony, had frequent reason to lament the superior attitude adopted by Europeans toward visitors from the New World who chanced to have business in their midst. But one at least of its distinguished citizens had little ground for complaint in this regard. There was nothing of superiority when Mirabeau, speaking before the French National Assembly, called Benjamin Franklin "the genius that freed America and poured a flood of light over Europe," or when Lord Brougham styled the great American "one of the most remarkable men of our times, as a politician, or of any age, as a philosopher . . . and one who stands alone in combining together these two characters."

Nor can it be said that these eulogies, typical of many at the time, were brought about by the American's capitulation to European ways during his long residence abroad. For Franklin, son of a poor tallow chandler, was of genuine homespun origins. He had had only a year or two of schooling. He had signified his first appearance in Philadelphia's streets in search of work by mauling bread from a loaf under his arm as he walked.

It would have required more than the fifteen years spent in England and the ten in France in his country's service to deprive him of that incurably independent outlook that proclaimed him the true democrat wherever he might be, even though he was on equally intimate terms with Washington, Jefferson and Adams, Chatham and Burke, Turgot, Lafayette, Voltaire and indeed most of the leading luminaries of the day.

It would be useless to attempt to account for the genius who now, on his two hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary, probably holds a more intimate and influential place in the hearts of Americans than any other of the nation's great leaders. Nevertheless, it is clear that Franklin's development was facilitated by the fact—too frequently forgotten—that in some fields American culture of the eighteenth century had attained a degree of ripeness and balance that had scarcely been known before or since. Blending Europe's classical culture of that day with the free-spirited outlook of the New World, it had acquired a breadth and humanity that the present age, with its conflicting aims and ideals, has found difficult to emulate.

No narrow conception of specialized interests hindered Franklin. His interests were bounded only by humanity. With characteristic alertness and curiosity, he attacked every problem, whether of natural science, mechanics, art, philosophy, or politics, that came his way—reading everything, till the one-time Yankee typesetter found himself compared with Archimedes, Leibnitz, Newton, Voltaire and the greatest thinkers of all time.

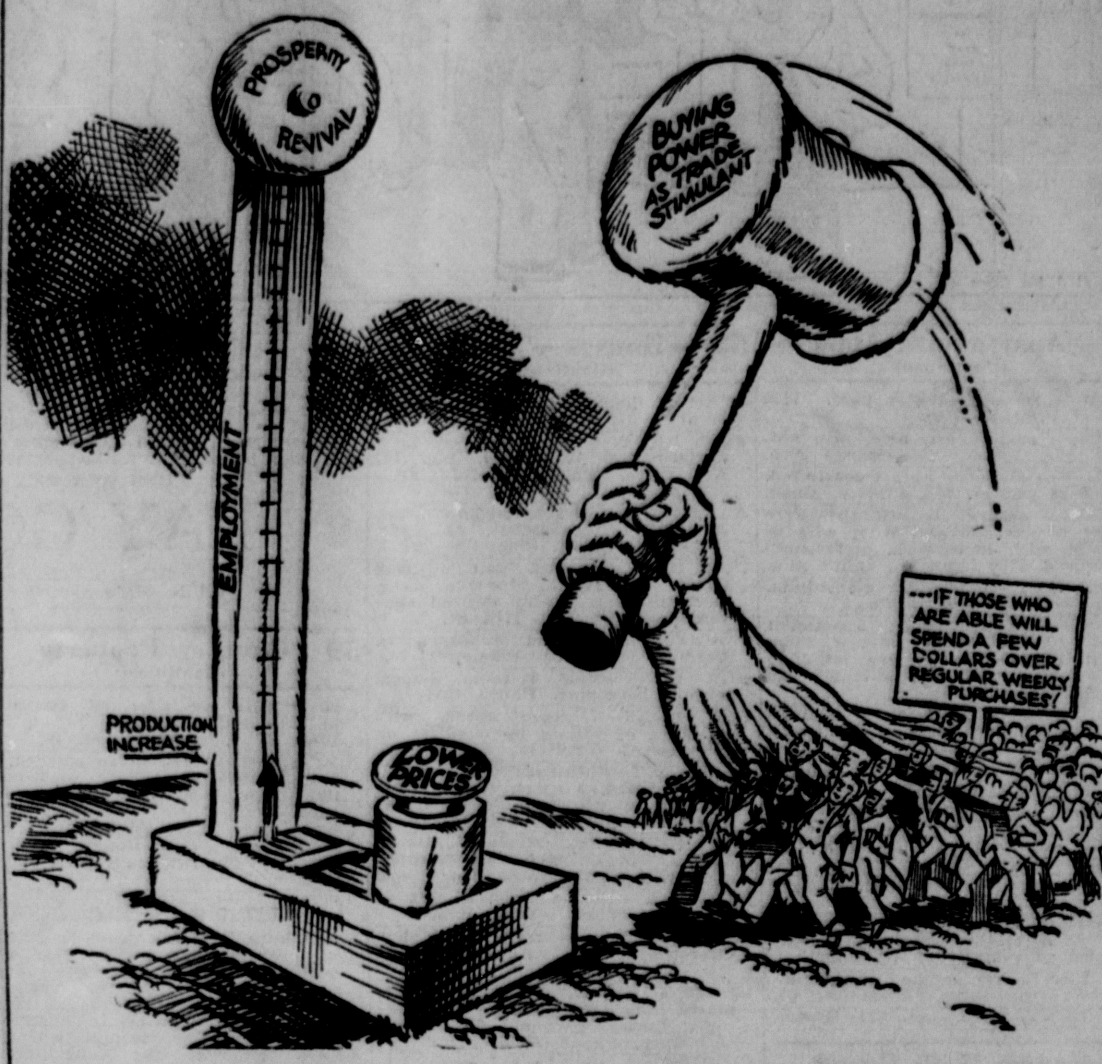

Yet not all his boundless knowledge and amazing inventiveness or his political acumen would have constituted him so remarkable a world figure were it not for that wondrously warm and human personality that made him as loved by kings and courtiers as by the humblest artisans who one and all knew him as a friend of humanity.

The proposal provides for a Federal government for the Indian states. The Viceroy is to have control of the foreign affairs, defense, and in part, the finances of the country. A responsible cabinet, removable by a two-thirds vote of the two chambers, is to be appointed. To each of the states and provinces is reserved the right to manage its local affairs. Is the wretched parent to have no self-expression at all? Is he seriously expected to believe that the more assiduously he vegetates in a corner of the drawing room, responding diffidently only when spoken to and smothering all marital differences of opinion under a cloak of superficial harmony, the better will be the effect on the family? It may be so, but, in the face of the steady stream of chastisement that nowadays plays upon him, he will be apt to think that it is high time he took a stand before his spirit is completely broken. And what is the use of developing personalities, views and opinions in the young if they are not to be permitted to express them when they, in turn, become parents?

WHAT'S THE USE

I have read many books by the wise and the great
Both at home and from over the sea,
Who are eager to teach me to master my fate
And to chart my existence for me.
But when one plots a course that I ought to pursue
Another one soon comes along
And proves that the things I've been bidden to do
Are utterly, hopelessly wrong.

Some essayists dwell on the joys of content
And tell me to lead a calm life,
Afraid from the strenuous growth that is bent
Upon showing ahead in the strife.
They say that great Buddha achieved his success
By eschewing all craving for self,
Disregarding all swank in the matter of dress
And by mildly conducting himself.

Other writers advise me to strive for applause,
To seek to be famous and wise,
To enlist in support of some glorious cause
And to read my reward in men's eyes,
Or to follow Napoleon's self-seeking course—
My heart with ambition to fill,
And with sheer intellectual power to force
Half the world to submit to my will.

But in reading the lives of these writers I find
That their active achievements are few,
I cannot discover that they were inclined
To do what they tell us to do.
While the great ones, who started from nothing at all
And mastered the forces of fate,
And whom owlish philosophers love to recall
Never knew how they came to be great.

The Fickle Dollar

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

In the past year, wholesale commodity prices FELL 20 per cent. In other words, the purchasing power of the dollar ROSE 25 per cent.

This has caused injustice to all debtors. Take the case of a man who, five years ago, borrowed enough money to buy 100 units of goods. He will now have to pay his creditor, in addition to interest, enough money to buy 125 units of goods.

When, on the other hand, prices are inflated—in other words, when the purchasing power of money falls off—it is the creditor who suffers.

The poor widow suffers, too, and the poor minister, and every other poor person who lives on a fixed dollar income.

The shifting dollar is unjust. With every change, either the debtor or the creditor loses. Men sow where they do not reap, and reap where they do not sow. Speculation is encouraged. Thrift becomes a mockery.

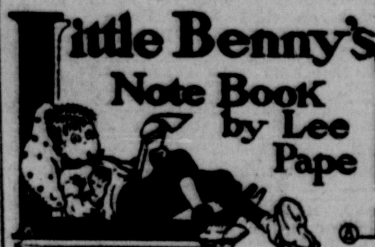

Deflation, such as we have suffered during the past year, reduces the DOLLAR cost of living; but it increases the REAL cost of living. Laborers, as a whole, receive less real wealth in return for their labor.

Eagerness for lower prices is natural; but lower prices are no benefit when the currency is deflated, and production is curtailed. That is what took place in 1930. No matter what happens to wages or to prices, people cannot buy more wealth than they produce.

The Stable Money Association is right: Such an extreme change in the value of money as took place in 1930 can be prevented.

Man cannot control the purchasing power of other commodities, for over their supply his control is limited. But over the supply of money, his control is absolute and unlimited. Some day he will exercise that control for his own good. He will discipline the fickle dollar.

Got what? ma sed, and I sed, It was really Nora's fault. ## Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

PUTTING BUYING POWER TO WORK

Yesterday I spoke of the fact that there exists today in the United States a social surplus of buying power that is more than enough to absorb all existing excess production and to call for a speeding up of production.

The key to national prosperity is the release of this inactive surplus of buying power.

If all this inactive buying power were in the hands of the consuming millions, it would be but a problem of psychological engineering to convince the millions to begin buying.

But the fact is—and, as I said yesterday, a score of America's outstanding conservative business leaders have said as much to me during the last six months—that this inactive surplus is, in large part, in the hands of a small minority who do not desire to buy more than they are buying for personal and family use.

And these business leaders tell me that, if a larger share of this social surplus could be wisely routed into the pockets of the large majority who both need and desire to buy more for personal and family consumption, economic depression could quickly be made but a memory throughout the United States.

Now—make no mistake about this—none of the business leaders who have said this to me have turned communist; they have said this as a result of the coldest of cold business calculation. They are simply clear-headed enough to see that if this social surplus of buying power can be shifted more largely into the hands of men and women who, by the millions, still have legiitimate personal and family needs unmet, the wheels of industry and the marts of trade will quickly begin to hum with new activity, and that, as a result of this new activity, the small minority will in the long run be better off than now as far as total wealth is concerned.

The key problem of the United States is, if I may repeat, the problem of a wise and business-like redistribution of social buying power!

Large-scale charity does a little of this redistributing.

Unemployment insurance does a little more.

A gigantic program of public works, financed by government bonds, bought by those who now have a large part of our inactive surplus buying power, and the interest and retirement of these bonds financed by taxation of this inactive surplus buying power, would go still further in this redistribution of buying power surplus.

But I like to think that we can effect this desirable redistribution of buying power through far-sighted business and industrial leadership without resorting to this taxation method, save in emergencies.

And never in my memory have great business leaders been giving as much thought to this key problem as today.

The prevention of radicalism and the creation of a contented and prosperous people depend upon this new recognition by business leadership that only prosperous consumers make profitable customers.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

TOWN ANGEL, HOME DEVIL

Did you ever know a child who behaved like an angel when he, or she, was away from home and quite the contrary sort of an angel when he was at home? What makes him or her behave like that? If he can be good, well-mannered abroad, why not at home?

Of course there is a reason, but not just one reason for all two-sided children. There is a reason for each child's peculiarities. The child who puzzles us must be studied by himself. What influences may not touch the next child at all.

Sometimes a child gets very tired being good. It is not reasonable to expect a child to live on an adult standard of manners and morals. He is a stranger to this world and its ways. He has to learn with care and pain, each movement, each attitude, each response. Learning new ways, learning new things, meeting new situations all day long is wearying beyond words. Yet this is what a child faces day by day.

And we grow impatient with his clumsy attempts and scold him. If you have a good-bad child investigate his daily schedule to discover if he has to be good for a long stretch at a time. If the teacher expects him always to be good, his parents and relatives always expect him to be perfect. If the neighbors always look to him for moral support for their erring children. These are severe drains upon the nervous system of a child. He needs relief and if he cannot get it he will blow up when he reaches a safe place like home. If you find that the child is under such a strain cut down on the number of people, on the hours of duty, on the amount of work he has to do. Give him a chance to play with a hearty group of children.

There are children who are so tired after a day in school, and they may or may not be top pupils, that when they reach home they collapse. The collapse takes the form of a tantrum, of a sulky streak, of a temper spasm. The cause is fatigue. Look well to his diet, his hours of rest, to his companions, to the school program, to the sort of teachers he has. Cut down on the pressure that is upon him. Give him a chance to play in the open, and a chance to laugh.

We are too serious about this matter of growing up. Laughter must have a place in childhood. It must have a place in the hearts and minds of all those who are associated with childhood. There must be room for the nonsense that is so healthy a part of children's growth. I am certain in my own mind that Mother Goose, Lear's Nonsense Rhymes, Funday, puppies, monkeys, parrots, funny-faces, horns, (those that blow), indulgent uncles and aunts, Charlie Chaplin, Santa Claus, do as much or more for children as all our solemn sermonizing.

Lift the pressure from the spirit of childhood and it will be good at home and abroad. It is the overburdened mind and body that rebels. Happy children, never.
